GEORGE E. BRENNAN IS DEAD

SMITH TO HAVE
PULPIT DEBATE
WITH STRATONChallenges Critic
and Is Accepted.

Straton Will Accept

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Rev. John Roach Straton tonight announced he would accept the challenge of Gov. Alfred E. Smith to repeat in the governor's presence his charges made in a sermon last Sunday, when he said Gov. Smith was "the deadliest foe in America of the forces of moral progress and true political values."

"I shall certainly give Gov. Smith the satisfaction he seeks," Mr. Straton said in a statement from the long distance telephone from Greenwood Lake, N. J., where he is on vacation.

Mr. Straton suggested that the meeting be held in Madison Square Garden or some other large auditorium, saying he did not think a Baptist church, of which he is pastor, would accommodate the crowd who would want to attend such a meeting. He also suggested that Gov. Smith and he tour the south in a series of debates.

JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Albany, N. Y., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Gov. Smith read to newspaper men at noon today a transcript of this letter, which had just been posted by him: "The Rev. John Roach Straton, D. D., Calvary Baptist Church, New York City.

"Dear Doctor Straton: The New York Times of Monday, Aug. 6, contains you as saying from the pulpit of your church that as a public man you are the deadliest foe in America to the forces of moral progress and true political values.

"I do not know why you should make a statement of that kind, but I know that I will never permit it to go unchallenged. I have spent my life in the service of the people in elective office, and the record of that service is open to the public. I feel that I should charge you with making this statement for any purpose, as it was made in a sermon devoted to the teachings of Jesus, one of which was 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'

"I challenge for fair play. I call on the American fair play, to invite me to your church at any time that suits your convenience during the week in question, or, beginning Sept. 2, I will ask you to make the same statement in my presence with such proof as you may be able to add.

"I further ask that you permit me to make full reply. In order that you may not be embarrassed, I will permit you, if you choose, to conduct the meeting by question and answer. I will be ready to answer any question you may put to me which, in my opinion, will in any degree tend to clarify your remarks.

"The eight years I have been the pastor of the state of which you are a resident, and I am firmly convinced that you owe it to me to give me an opportunity to be heard before your own congregation on the statement that you made about my personal career."

At the close of the reading, which was followed by the joyful remark made by one of the listeners: "That's a corker, Governor. The people will take you up on it, too."

"What I wrote it for."

A husband will not be given a passport to join his wife living abroad if he is able to support her in Italy. Preference will be given emigrants who wish to go abroad only temporarily, but not to exceed three years. Passports will be refused to the wife or children of an emigrated Italian who went abroad "temporarily" and then failed to return within the stipulated time.

ITALIAN CREW
PERISHES WHILE
BOAT IS RAISEDGas from Flooded
Batteries Fatal.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, Aug. 7.—The thirty-one officers and crew of the Italian coast submarine F-14 are dead. The ill fated craft, which sank in 130 feet of water off the island of Brioni, in the Adriatic sea, following a collision with a destroyer early yesterday morning, was brought to the surface at 6:30 o'clock tonight, just thirty-four hours after it had been sent to the bottom.

Chlorine gas, believed to have resulted when salt water flooded the storage batteries in the submarine, sealed the fate of the two officers and twenty-nine men.

The boat was brought to the surface with the aid of pontoons, which had been fastened to it earlier in the day. The rescue workers immediately forced open the hatches, but it was too late—the entire personnel of the boat had perished.

Performed Naval Miracle.

ROME, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Italian submarine F-14 with its crew of 31 dead from poisonous gases was brought to the surface of the Adriatic tonight in which it had sunk after a collision 34 hours before.

The weary salvagers, who had performed almost a naval miracle in retrieving the submersible from a depth of 130 feet, peered hopefully into the opened hatches only to find they were gazing into the tomb of their comrades.

They had been forewarned of the tragedy when during the afternoon the submarine telegraph signals from the stricken craft had suddenly ceased. They continued to drive at their task, however, in the hope that the ominous silence meant simply that the crew had withdrawn to a safer part of the submarine, or at worst, that they were simply weakened by the difficulty of breathing in the fouled air. The revelation that all were dead came as a shock.

Stern Compartment Flooded.
At least a few of the crew were believed to have escaped the torture of the helpless wait at the bottom of the sea for rescue. The stern compartment of the F-14 was flooded when the sharp bow of the destroyer Giuseppe Missori rode over the emerging craft.

Capt. Weil and Commander Fasulo were the officers who died in the submarine. Normally craft of the size of the F-14 would carry 25 men but there were several apprentice motorists on board during the battle maneuvers in which the fleet was engaged.

There were many factors in the race against death. Against the rescuers was the weather which until this evening made the surface of the sea boisterous, and the fact that the F-14 had sunk to a depth almost double that at which it was believed capable of withstanding the pressure.

In favor of the Italian government was the fact that the fleet on the spot carried virtually every device necessary for the task.

Pass Cables Under Hull.
Within an hour after the crash, divers had gone down and within a reasonably short time the exact location of the submarine was determined by observers in seaplanes circling over the scene. The divers continued at their task, made more precarious by the turbulence of the waters, until they had passed steel cables under the shattered hull.

The ends of these were attached to pontoons and the F-14 was slowly raised from the bottom. Until the last moment the salvagers believed that they might win out over the gases which form in a submarine when the sea water reaches the batteries.

U. S. Navy Expresses Regrets.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson today called the regrets of the navy to the Italian government over the disaster of the Italian submarine F-14.

"On behalf of the United States navy I desire to express to your excellency and the royal navy my deep regret over the unfortunate accident to F-14."

Woman Slain
With Iron Pipe
In Evanston

An unidentified woman about 42 years old was found beaten to death in an arway in the rear of 765 Foster street, Evanston, early this morning. The body was discovered by a milkman on his rounds. An iron pipe lying beside her was believed to have been the weapon used by the slayer.

Earlier in the night Mrs. Jennie Constance, 42 years old, of 733 Foster street, was reported to the Evanston police as missing from her home. Police immediately began an investigation to determine if the slain woman was Mrs. Constance.

The neighborhood in which the body was found is one of the leading residential sections of the city.

The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of J. L. Hebblethwaite at 1610 Maple street, Evanston, and acquaintances of Mrs. Constance were summoned to view it.

Dry Leading
Reed's Man at Missouri Polls

BULLETIN.
St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8.—(U. P.)—At midnight returns from 755 precincts in the primary contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator gave: Hay, 42,351; Collet, 21,629.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Charles M. Hay of St. Louis and Roscoe C. Patterson of Springfield, United States district attorney at Kansas City, tonight were leading respectively in the races for the Democratic and Republican nominations for United States senator in early returns from the statewide primary.

Francis M. Wilson of Platte City and Henry S. Caulfield, St. Louis, were the respective leaders in the contests for the Democratic and Republican nominations for governor.

Hay, a dry leader, was more than 16,000 votes ahead of his chief opponent, James A. Collet of Salisbury, wet candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, backed by Senator James A. Reed. Returns from Hay 35,523; Collet, 17,506; Robert I. Young, farmer candidate, of St. Joseph, 5,463.

G. O. P. Race Closer.

The race for the Republican senatorial nomination was closer, with Patterson only about 2,000 votes in the lead over David M. Proctor of Kansas City. Both are running as drys.

Patterson had 12,735 votes from 484 precincts reported, Proctor 10,780. Nathan Frank (wet) 4,331, Henry A. Bundschu (wet) 1,465, William C. Atkinson (dry) 2,135, and Bernard P. Bogy (wet) 729.

Wilson, a neutral on prohibition, on returns from 592 precincts, was more than 27,000 votes ahead of State Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage in the Democratic race for governor.

Wilson had 40,247 votes, while McCawley, father of the Missouri "bone dry" law, had only 12,902 and Ralph T. Harding 3,394.

Caulfield was almost 3,000 votes ahead of his nearest opponent, Lieut. Gov. Phil Bennett, with 482 precincts reported.

Tabulations from the first 32 precincts in St. Louis showed Collet might cut into Hay's lead. Collet was leading by nearly 4 to 1 in the city.

Clyde Reed Leads in Kansas.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Clyde M. Reed, Parsons publisher, took a commanding lead over his five opponents on early returns tonight from the Republican gubernatorial contest.

On the face of reports from 205 precincts out of 2,459 in the state in today's primary Reed held a two to one advantage over John Hamilton of Topeka, speaker of the state house of representatives, his nearest rival.

END COMES FOR PARTY LEADER
AFTER RELAPSELies Through Night
In Deep Coma.

BULLETIN.
George E. Brennan, noted Democratic leader, died this morning shortly after 8 o'clock in the John B. Murphy hospital where he has been ill for more than a week. He had lain throughout the night in coma, following a relapse he suffered yesterday. He became weaker every hour all night, and at 7 o'clock it was reported the end was near. Mr. Brennan was 63 years old.

George E. Brennan, one of the national leaders of the Democratic party, lay all last night in a state of coma which, his physicians said, will end in death, probably today or tonight.

High hopes of his friends and political associates that Mr. Brennan had won his fight for life against septic poisoning were crushed suddenly by an announcement yesterday that diabetes, with which he has been afflicted for eight years, had destroyed his chances for recovery.

Pastor Is Summoned.

The Rev. Father Scanlon of the Mount Carmel church went to Mr. Brennan's room shortly before midnight. The rite of extreme unction was administered to Mr. Brennan when his condition became critical ten days ago.

The rush of callers to the John B. Murphy hospital, which began when the leader first became critically ill, had been repressed by orders against visitors and messages of any sort. The stricken man was alone last night with the members of his family, Mrs. Brennan and the daughter, Mary, were constantly at his bedside, but the hospital halls were empty except for the doctors and nurses.

"No Hope," Callers Are Told.

Dozens of telegrams came—some from men in high places in the nation—but most of them lay unopened. On the main floor below the telephone switchboard was jammed with calls. Throughout the night the response was the same. There had been no change.

"I cannot hold out any hope for his recovery," said Dr. C. R. G. Forrester, his personal physician for the last nine years.

"We thought we had conquered the original trouble, the infection that resulted from the extraction of teeth. But he has had diabetes for eight years. The strain of the septic poisoning was too much for his subnormal kidneys. They have ceased to function."

This statement was a shock to Mr. Brennan's closest friends. They had not known of this danger. When news of the tragic change became known in the old haunts of the party leader they became almost as silent as the hospital halls.

Sorrow at Headquarters.
Mr. Brennan's personal headquarters on the fourth floor of the Hotel Sherman were deserted. The pinchbeck table, at which for many months he has spent three or four afternoons a week with sociable intimates, was idle. In the county headquarters in Parlor A on the mezzanine floor most of the local leaders were gathered; big bosses and precinct leaders came and went with anxious faces.

In an inner room there was a hushed conference of most of the county candidates with County Chairman Martin J. O'Brien. Their voices could barely be heard through the open door. A reporter asked if some action was being discussed, some message to the sick chief.

"There's nothing we can do—nothing," replied Chairman O'Brien.

Wait Outside Hospital.
Although they knew it was futile, he and other leaders went to the north side hospital for a few minutes during the evening. None of them sought to enter. Seemingly even to try to muffle their footsteps they walked about the neighborhood talking quietly.

On the hospital lawn from time to time they questioned State Representative Joseph L. Gill, a brother-in-law of Mr. Brennan, their only contact with the sick room. Occasionally Gill would go through the big doors for a few minutes and would return with word that there was no change. Yes, Mr. Brennan and Mary were with him.

Worn out by a vigil that had lasted all day and most of the night before, Dr. Forrester went home early in the evening for a few hours of rest. Upon his return late at night he said he had found no reason to change his earlier judgment. He and Dr. Karl Meyer, of the county hospital, have been Mr. Brennan's only medical attendants for the last few days, and their opinions agreed.

Dr. Forrester told of the physical hardships and suffering that he had watched Mr. Brennan go through since he became his patient. During that time the surgeon operated three times, in each instance guarding against a diabetic condition that threatened fatal complications.

When he was a youth at Bradwood, Ill., checking car numbers for a railroad, Mr. Brennan was caught between two cars and lost his left leg above the knee. During the years since that time he has worn an artificial limb and the chafing of the stump developed nodules at the nerve ends. In 1922 when Mr. Brennan was planning the campaign that elected Mayor Dever, the inflamed condition of these nerves made an operation necessary and he narrowly escaped a fatal pneumonia.

Two Other Operations.

In 1924 while he was campaigning for the United States senate, Mr. Brennan fell from a speaking platform and injured his sound leg. Dr. Forrester sutured a torn tendon of the injured knee, and again there was serious danger of death. Then last spring the same surgeon operated for hernia. Once more great care was required.

Dr. Forrester described Mr. Brennan's condition last night as diabetic coma, a condition which medical records show, may last from twenty-four hours to three days but is almost invariably the precursor of death.

Mr. Brennan began to show the first symptoms of lapsing into that state late Monday night. The kidneys began to slow down. By noon they had ceased to function. It was at that time that the public was informed of the gravity of the situation.

But there were none of the bulletins customarily issued when a well-known man is dying. The nature of the case did not lend itself to that sort of encouragement. The first statement of the attending physician was considered the final one. It was known there would be no change except a gradual sinking of vitality during the coma.

Reporters at the hospital in search of more and more news found that situation confronting them. They said nothing more to be said. Occasionally they would talk with Representative Gill or persuade a supervising nurse to go upstairs and bring back word. But it was always the same message.

His Wishes to Be Respected.

Because of Mr. Brennan's own wishes, it is expected after his death there will be an almost complete absence of demonstration. It is understood there will be a request that friends refrain from sending flowers and that the services at the home will be private, the later church services being public.

The former services will be at the family residence, 3150 Sheridan road, an apartment in which Mr. Brennan and his family have lived for several years. Representative Gill and Mrs. Gill and Miss Jennie Fogarty, a sister of Mrs. Brennan, were keeping watch there last night.

Leon K. Magrath, Oak Park Chief of Police, Resigns

Chief of Police Leon K. Magrath of Oak Park yesterday resigned. The chief, who began as a patrolman on the Oak Park force twenty-five years ago, was appointed its commander in 1923 by Willis McFeeley, president of the board. In his letter of resignation Magrath stated he had recently been made a brigadier in the Modern Woodmen of America in charge of all drill work, and that he wished to devote all his time to this work. Lieut. Benjamin Barsena, a veteran of the Oak Park force, will be acting chief until a successor to Chief Magrath is appointed.

ANOTHER ELLER PARTISAN TAKEN; HELD AS KILLER

Trial of Judge, Father to Be Set Today.

Elmer Gasparino, sought for months in connection with the murder of Octavius C. Granady, colored leader and primary opponent of Morris Eller, boss of the Bloody 20th ward, was arrested last night by Lieut. Phil Carroll and his detective bureau squad.

The prisoner, known to the police as a west side hoodlum and racketeer, was taken at once to the office of Capt. John Stege, deputy commissioner of police in command at the detective bureau. There he was questioned by Capt. Stege and David D. Stansbury, first special assistant attorney general, on reports that Gasparino had been one of the gunmen in the gangster's cars which pursued Granady to his death on April 10.

Will Be Viewed Today.

Gasparino will be held incommunicado until today, when witnesses to the slaying of Granady will be called to identify him.

A year ago last night Gasparino, known also as Elmer Sherlock, was shot at the corner of 20th and Madison streets by west side gunmen. Two men carried him to a doctor's office, dumped him on the floor, and fled. He refused to give any information about his attackers, and after recovering from his wounds he was released.

At that time Gasparino lived at 1011 West Carroll, who was first on the scene of the Granady murder, and has been at work on the crime ever since, arrested Gasparino in that ward last night.

To Set Trial Date Today.

The date for the trial of Morris Eller, his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, and seventeen of their followers, charged with conspiracy to commit the murder of Granady and many acts of terrorism in the 20th ward on primary day, will be set this morning by Judge John M. O'Connor, sitting in the Criminal court. Granady, on the day of his murder, was running against Morris Eller for Republican committeeman of the 20th ward. Eller, now city collector, was nominated on that day for trustee of the sanitary district.

Question Club Lido Owner.

Michael A. Corsi, owner of the Club Lido, 4749 Broadway, was questioned by Prosecutor Stansbury yesterday after Lincoln Park Police Lieut. Sam Pincus arrested Corsi in the early morning. A loaded .32 caliber automatic was found tucked in Corsi's belt, and in the torn case of his automobile was found a sawed off shotgun in a leather case.

In Corsi's pocket was found a summons in a suit in which Eddie Brownstein, indicted Eller aid, was named a defendant. Sergt. William Higgins then took Corsi to Mr. Stansbury's office, but after questioning, the prosecutor was satisfied Corsi had no connection with the 20th ward violence, and he was taken back to the Sheffield avenue police station. He was held last night on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated, possession of concealed weapons, and assault. Cabaret entertainers in the automobile with him were released.

ALLEGED CHECK FASSEE CAUGHT.

Alex Miller, 285 Lake street, Oak Park, who has been sought by the Chicago police on charges of passing worthless checks, was captured in Oak Park Monday after a chase of three blocks.

Gold Coast Tax Valuations are Made Public by Board

Personal property assessments for 1928 for residents of Chicago's Gold Coast were made public yesterday by the board of assessors. The highest was for Richard T. Crane Jr., 1550 Lake Shore drive, who will pay on a valuation of $1,125,000. The second highest was for Cyrus H. McCormick, 50 East Huron street, who is assessed on $885,000.

The figures theoretically represent the full market value of the individual's household furnishings, stocks, bonds and other securities, automobiles, jewelry, and in fact everything worth owning. Practically, the figures are supposed to represent a valuation in equity with the valuations placed on realty, about 40 per cent of the sale value. Furthermore, many pay taxes on their businesses separate from their personal taxes.

Other High Figures Given.

Other high valuations noted in the assessors' books were as follows: Harold F. McCormick, 657 Rush street, $675,000; E. M. Miller, 227 East Delaware place, $510,000; Elmer O. Eller, 230 East Walton place, $235,000; John Borden, 1450 Astor street, $250,000; Mrs. Edith R. McCormick, 1500 Lake Shore drive, $90,000; and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, 1430 Astor street, $40,000.

In Lake Forest personal property assessments were announced for some of the prominent families of the north shore suburb. The valuations made public included the following: Elmer J. Warner, $37,000; Charles H. Schweppe, $17,000; Donald M. Ryerson, $21,500; J. M. Cudahy, $10,000; Clayton Mark, $24,300; Donald R. McLennan, $20,000; B. A. Eckhart, $2,000; Albert D. Farwell, $900; C. N. Goodwin, $2,000; Walter Brewster, $22,000; A. Carpenter, $20,000; H. C. Chatfield Taylor, $22,000; William E. Clow, $14,000; and Kent S. Clow, $10,000.

On Chicago's Gold Coast.

In the city some of the gold coast residents will pay personal property taxes on the following valuations: Leader H. McCormick, 631 Rush street, $100,000; Arthur Bissell, 50 E. Two men were shot within an hour early yesterday in the rear of a building at 1553 West Division street. Police arrested Emil Leonard, 22 of 1124 Milwaukee avenue, who had been shot in the thigh, and Henry Bogacz, 22 of 1530 West Division street, who had shot him. The two were ordered locked up after the inquest in the afternoon into the death of Esther Ronstadt, 13, of 2818 Diversey boulevard. The girl was killed Monday night when the couple, on a party without the knowledge of their respective spouses, according to testimony, had been drinking and Kopperad's auto, driven by Mrs. Burch, ran over the child and two others who were playing on the sidewalk. The inquest was continued until Aug. 16.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SEAPLANE GIVEN SUCCESSFUL TEST

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—The world's largest seaplane, the Romar, early this morning underwent a successful trial at Lubeck. The plane has three motors with a total of 2,400 horsepower. It carried a load of about 23,000 pounds.

The huge plane rose smoothly and remarkably fast and performed various evolutions with perfect ease, settling down on the water after fifteen minutes of flight.

German aviation experts were unanimous in considering this the opening of a new era in air transport, as the plane's great carrying capacity enables it to load enough fuel for a trans-Atlantic flight, besides a number of passengers and considerable mail or baggage.

SCHMIDT TO TAKE CITY CONTROLLER POST ON SEPT. 1

Mayor Orders Economy in Appointing Banker.

George K. Schmidt, north side banker and Republican leader, appointed acting city controller by Mayor Thompson yesterday, will take office on Sept. 1, he announced last night. He will succeed Charles C. Fitzmorris, who resigned three weeks ago.

A few hours after Mr. Schmidt's appointment was announced, city department heads received letters from the mayor containing a new warning that they must cut down expenditures during the rest of 1928. Setting forth the exact balances available in the budget, the mayor stated it is "imperative" that each official stay within the sum allotted to him.

Ettelson, Pike Do Announcing.

The selection of the new controller was made known by Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson and Eugene R. Pike, spokesmen for the mayor, who is sojourning in the Wisconsin woods. The economy letters were mailed out later from the office of Deputy Controller Louis E. Gosnell.

Mr. Schmidt, since the advent of the new Thompson administration, has been vice president of the board of local improvements. Previously he had held other public offices, being identified with the Crowe-Brundage faction on the north side. From 1902 to 1904 he served as alderman of the 14th ward, from 1908 to 1910 as county commissioner, and from 1917 to 1921 as a member of the board of assessors. During the mayoralty campaign he was active in behalf of Mr. Thompson, organizing the "German William Hale Thompson Boosters," and aiding in other movements to bring the German vote to the mayor.

Founder and Head of Bank.

In private life Mr. Schmidt is president of the Prudential State Savings bank, which he organized in 1910. He also is a director of the Standard Trust and Savings bank and treasurer of the Wieland Ice Cream company. He is 53 years old and resides at 4228 Sheridan road.

"I always have been a great admirer of Mayor Thompson and I am only too glad to step in and help him handle the financial affairs of the city," said Mr. Schmidt. "Between Sept. 1 and Sept. 1 I intend to clean up a few private affairs, take a short vacation, and then I will be back ready to devote my full time and energies to the controller's duties."

Refuses to Discuss Plans.

Mr. Schmidt declined to discuss any plans and policies he may have with regard to the problems which will confront him, the most important of which are impending deficits this year of more than $3,000,000 in the corporate fund and about $12,000,000 in the water fund. Mr. Fitzmorris, it was reported, withdrew from the cabinet partly because he was unable to check the heavy expenditures of the city council and other department heads.

The mayor's letter yesterday pointed to the seriousness of the situation. It was the second he has sent to department heads since Mr. Fitzmorris resigned.

Only two department heads, Mr. Ettelson and Michael J. J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, had received their letters last night. Mr. Ettelson, the mayor states, is expected to save $85,000 in the last six months of 1928, and Mr. Faherty $114,000.

Figures $3,964,586 Saving.

Should all of the department heads accept the saving of the quotas designated, the total savings from the budget, the mayor estimates, would be $3,964,586, which would more than counterbalance the estimated deficit of $2,599,586 in the corporate fund.

In addition to carrying out the mayor's projected economy program, Mr. Schmidt, as controller, will be concerned with at least two council appointments already made but alleged to be illegal. One of these is the $100,000 appropriation out of the traction fund to Mr. Faherty for subway plans, and the other $50,000 from the corporate fund for preliminary studies on Lake Calumet harbor. The mayor, Mr. Fitzmorris declared to be illegal, while the latter is under fire by Hayes McKinney, attorney for several taxpayers in suits to block expenditures of public funds.

Deputy Controller Gosnell has refused to issue vouchers on these appropriations without opinions from the corporation counsel approving them. Mr. Ettelson stated yesterday that he expected to have an opinion on the subway appropriation ready today or tomorrow.

TWO CHICAGOANS BADLY INJURED IN CAMP FLIGHTS

Illinois Guard Planes Fall in Training.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Lieut. Reginald C. Kuhn, 108th observation squadron, and Mechanic Edw. Skottowe, were severely injured this afternoon when their plane crashed on a hillside about a mile and a half south of the Camp Grant landing field.

At St. Anthony's hospital it was said both will recover. Lieut. Kuhn, whose home is at 1452 Wisconsin avenue, Chicago, was badly cut about the head and face and bruised. Skottowe had painful bruises and lacerations.

Lieut. Kuhn said he believed the crash was caused by a wing of the plane crumpling. The plane was flying with two others in formation. It was completely wrecked.

Two Others Escape Injury.

Lieut. Kuhn's training ship, a 60-1 biplane, was flying in an observation maneuver when it made the forced landing from a height of 150 to 200 feet. The ambulance was driven on a short cut across fields to the wreck, the men nipping the wires of the fences as they went along.

Lieut. Kuhn received his flying training in the world war.

Earlier in the day, Lieut. Melville Muckelstone, pilot, and Private James R. Mitchell, also of the 108th squadron, escaped injury when their plane ran out of gasoline and they were forced down. Both wings of the plane were ripped against fence posts.

Many thousands of persons are expected tomorrow, when Gov. Small and Gen. Summerall arrive to inspect the Illinois troops on governor's day.

Two Navy Flyers Killed.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 7.—(U.P.)—Ensign Clayton Schmitt, U. S. N., and Harold T. McIntyre, aviation machinist's mate, second class, were killed today when their plane fell into San Diego bay.

BRITISH WAR HERO'S DOG, TANGERINE, IS DELAYED AND TESTED

Tangerine got into a pickle yesterday.

To Capt. John Loder, Britisher, late of the Kings' Hussars and the English diplomatic service, Tangerine is a canine pal of uncomparable worth. But to the impersonal eyes of the baggage men at the La Salle street station, Tangerine was merely a dog who might have rabies, and as such, was held in quarantine for several hours until $4 was paid and the dog examined.

Though the little Irish terrier had come straight from England and had passed the immigration authorities at New York with flying colors, the official document attesting to her excellent health was only a scrap of paper to the Chicago authorities, and she was sentenced to fifteen days of observation. Capt. Loder, son of Maj. Gen. William Loder of the British army, was disconsolate.

Reputedly one of the handsomest men in the British forces, Capt. Loder is on his way to Hollywood with a flattering contract signed by Jesse Lasky. Wounded in the "big German push," as he calls it, on the Somme, he was a prisoner of war in Germany for ten months. After the war he was returned there, mainly because of his ability to speak German.

Since July 17 police have held a warrant for the arrest of Sern C. Brown, alias Christ S. Brown, political worker in the 43d ward and friend of Ald. Titus Haffa, member of the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin-Eller faction. And during this time, according to Brown's reports to the adult probation office, he has been drawing a salary from the sanitary district and has been on one other public pay roll.

S. P. Krieger of 1030 Sheridan road, who has urgent business to transact with Brown, reported yesterday that he saw Brown sitting in an automobile near the city hall a few weeks ago. On the front bumper of the car, according to Krieger, was an "official" star.

Not Found on Pay Roll.

If Brown is on the sanitary district pay roll, as he reported, he is carried under another name. A perusal of the pay roll failed to disclose either a Sern C. Brown or a Christ S. Brown.

"I did some investigating myself a few months ago," Krieger said. "On a pay day at the sanitary district I stood in front of the Standard Oil building, where the paymaster is located, and waited. I saw Brown come out of the building. I tried to follow him, but I lost him in the crowd."

In March, 1926, Brown was manager of the Rex Arms hotel, 4901 Kenmore avenue, which was owned by Krieger's wife, Mrs. Sophie P. Krieger. There was a shortage in the hotel's accounts, and Brown was indicted on a charge of embezzling $600.

Haffa Pleads for Him.

Ald. Haffa posted bond for the defendant.

CITY WILL START NORTH SIDE STREET REPAIRS ON MONDAY

City workmen will be on the job repairing holes in north side streets next Monday unless there is some unexpected upset of the ordinance passed by the city council Monday. It was announced yesterday by Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe.

The council ordered cancellation of the White Paving company's contract to do the north side repair work and directed Mr. Wolfe to do the job under the south side. Mayor Thompson, at his Wisconsin retreat, received the ordinance yesterday and is expected to sign them before the end of the week.

Four days work will be necessary to put in operation the city's asphalt plant on Belmont avenue, the commissioner was informed by Superintendent of Streets Thomas Byrne.

Approximately $900,000 in vehicle tax money remains for use on the north side this season. Mr. Wolfe believes that virtually all of this money can be expended for repairs before winter sets in.

Brown obtained continuance after continuance, but finally was brought to trial and convicted in July of last year. Ald. Haffa appeared in court and pleaded with Judge Joseph S. David for clemency. The judge granted Brown probation on condition that he would make restitution to his former employer.

In December of last year Brown was indicted on charges of defrauding his political associates in the 43d ward. A shortage of $6,000 was found in the accounts of the Republican ward club. Ald. Haffa apparently did not lose his confidence in the young man, and was quoted on the next day as saying: "I am still willing to help him if I can."

On last July 5 Krieger reported to Thomas W. Sennott of the adult probation office that Brown had returned only $15 of the money he was alleged to have embezzled from the hotel. Sennott obtained a warrant for Brown's arrest, but last night Hudson avenue police said they could not find him.

Child Swallows Pills for Candy; Loses Life

Mistaking a box of pills for candy, 5-year old Lena D'Angelo ate so many yesterday in her home at 5303 South Artesian avenue that she was suddenly taken ill and died shortly after she had been taken to the German Deaconess hospital.

Thomas Banfield, 71 years old, of Chicago, O., fell dead yesterday on the elevated platform at La Salle and Van Buren streets. Heart disease, aggravated by the heat, is believed to have been the cause.

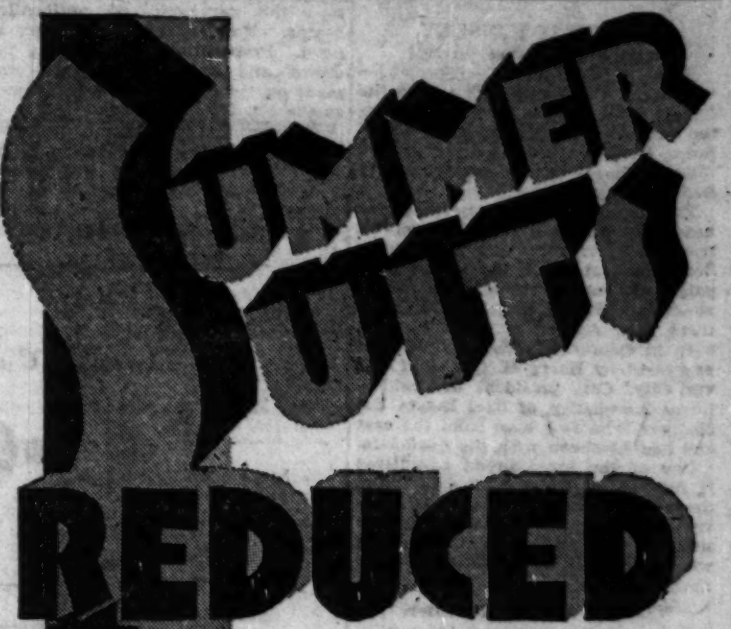

CELL BECKONS JOSEPH SALTIS FOR 80TH DAY

Joseph Saltis, the south side beer baron, still is at large. Eighty days ago the Supreme court of the United States forwarded to Chicago a mandate for his arrest and imprisonment in the Bridewell to serve a term of sixty days for carrying concealed weapons. The sentence was imposed on him more than sixteen months ago. During the eighty days of his dodging the police at intervals announced that a search was being conducted for him, but that he could not be found. The present theory is that he is resting in a summer cottage in upper Michigan.

DECLARES VICE RESORTS LESSEN REALTY VALUES

A loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars in trade each year is suffered in certain districts of Chicago because of the operation of vice resorts, Charles E. Miner, superintendent of the Committee of Fifteen, said yesterday at a meeting of the North Austin Lions club.

"Just as soon as a building becomes generally known as the location of a vice resort its value for legitimate uses is practically gone," Mr. Miner asserted.

PHILADELPHIA UNDISTURBED BY FAT-WALLET DRY

But, Unlike New York, It's a Republican City.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Night life in the nation's biggest Republican city is undisturbed by federal prohibition snoopers with fat wallets.

The fancy spenders of the enforcement staff had to pass through Philadelphia en route from Washington to New York. They did. They have no stopover privileges to do any political cleaning up here, although the "whopee" differs from that of New York only in the complexion of its politics.

The Vire organization in Philadelphia is the strongest Republican machine in the United States. William S. Vire campaigned for the United States senate on the one, and only one of irreconcilable opposition to Prohibitionism. He told a senate committee he believed the function of the returned police to be to help the wayward to their homes instead of throwing them into jail for intoxication.

Wet, but It's Republican. Philadelphia never has pretended to observe the eighteenth amendment and has slight inclination to that even now, though a Republican administration in Washington may be attempting a spectacular sideshow in New York to impress the rest of the country with the "wetness" there under Tammany rule.

"Nothing of the sort has been attempted in Philadelphia. Nothing of the kind is contemplated here," H. O. Wynn, federal prohibition administrator, said today.

"Have you any special instructions from Washington for an enforcement drive at this time?" he was asked.

"We have not," he replied.

"Has your force been increased through addition of special undercover agents from Washington?"

"No."

"Any special padlocking activity?"

"No," the administrator responded.

"To begin with, we do not have in Philadelphia anything like the night club problem they have in New York. Moreover, we are attempting a common sense enforcement, without sensational raids and drives and that sort of thing, and I think we are making progress."

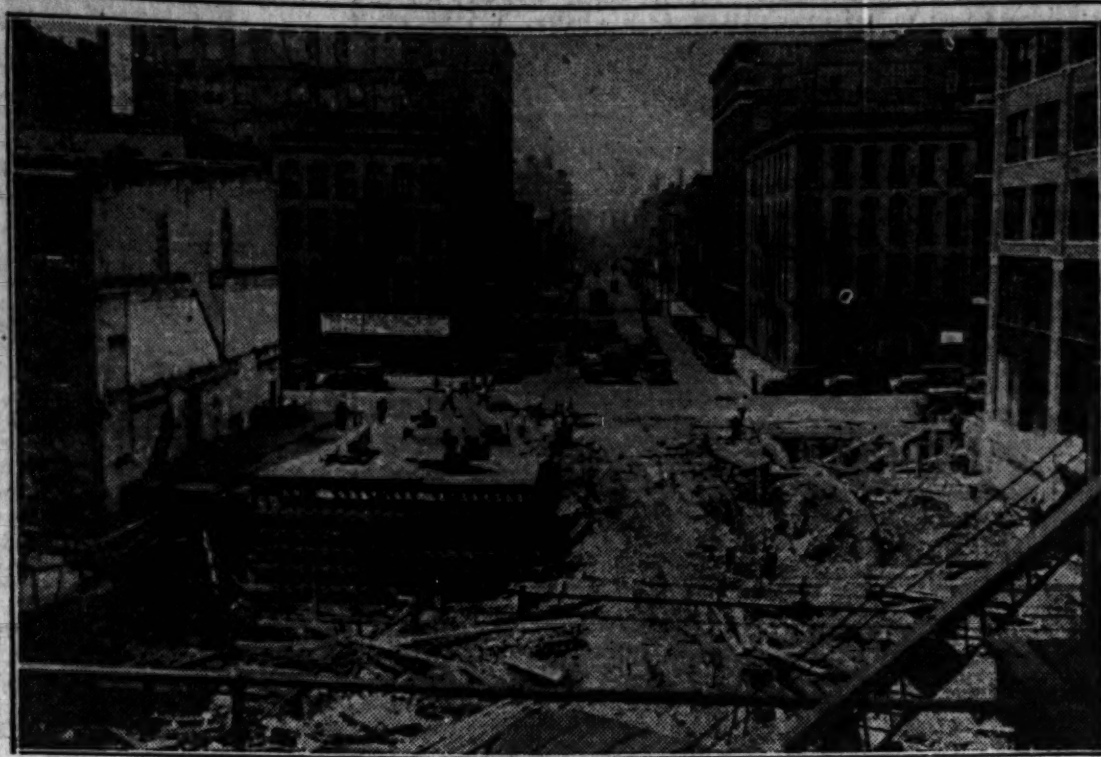

14,000 Speakeasies.

"Is Philadelphia dry?" he was asked.

"It is not," Mr. Wynn responded.

"Any one who tells you it is in talk."

ing bunk. I know it is not dry. I would be speaking an untruth if I said anything else.

"I do say this, however. That people gradually are being educated to the fact that the stuff they are buying is not genuine. There is some real beer obtainable in Philadelphia. It is not as plentiful as formerly. We have closed and padlocked some breweries, but it is not always possible to keep up with all the leaks.

"There is not much real whisky here. Most of it is cut and adulterated."

Mr. Wynn declared there had been only sixty padlock applications in Philadelphia this year. About forty of these were upheld and others are pending on appeal.

Mayor Harry A. Mackey has estimated there were 14,000 speakeasies of one sort or another in and around Philadelphia. There is no difficulty in obtaining a drink over a bar nor a bottle delivered on short notice.

Saloons Wide Open.

The bulk of the liquor sold in Philadelphia is in open saloons. There are no barred entrances. The places are operated as soft drink saloons with liquor sold to those who are known or who "look all right."

Very little liquor is kept on the premises. The proprietor has it cached somewhere in the neighborhood and brings it in a bottle at a time. Only those saloons which have been too flagrant in their illicit operations have fallen into the traps of the federal enforcement officers.

Mr. Wynn's major activities are directed against cutting off the sources of supply. He sees a growth of sentimism for enforcement in the fact that jury convictions are becoming the order rather than the exception.

"But Philadelphia is not dry," he admits, "don't quote me as saying anything like that. It is difficult to get a real drink and we are trying to make it even more difficult. We are proceeding in an orderly way."

ONE GREEK FREED; ATHENS WILL NOT RANSOM SECOND

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ATHENS, Aug. 7.—The council of ministers tonight decided that it would not pay from the Greek treasury the $65,000 ransom demanded by bandits for the release of the captured Greek parliamentary candidate, Constantino Melas. The bandits already released the second candidate, Former Undersecretary of Finance Milonas, in order that the might influence the relatives of M. Melas to produce the ransom hastily. M. Milonas states that the brigands treated them well, but was told that if the ransom was not paid immediately, or if the military pursued, M. Melas would be killed.

Challenges Objectors

The threat of attorneys for the Moody Bible Institute and 31 other objectors to the La Salle street widening project to appeal to the Supreme court was described yesterday by the board of local improvements as "nothing but a bluff."

Attorney Eugene H. Dupee, representing the objectors, announced the plan for a Supreme court appeal Monday following a hearing before Judge I. E. Weaver on the awards to be granted for damaged buildings and condemned property. Mr. Dupee waived further court controversy and elected to carry the legality of the improvement to the highest court immediately. Judge Weaver then entered an order allowing the appeal.

The contemplated improvement calls for widening La Salle street to 108 feet from Ohio street north and to 120 feet from Ohio street to Washington street. The Moody Institute, which pays no taxes but owns two blocks of La Salle street frontage, has demanded $500,000 more than the city thinks is fair.

Mr. Faherty announced that he has let contracts for paving of the section of La Salle street between Wacker drive and Washington street, already widened.

VICTIM OF DRY LOSES MIND AS WELL AS SIGHT

Court Appoints Manager for His Affairs.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Madness as well as blindness will be the lot of Jacob D. Hanson, Niagara Falls clubman, who was shot by quick trigger coast guards men in mistake for a run runner on the lonely Lewiston hill on June 4.

Today Hanson's attorney asked the Supreme court here to appoint a special commissioner to handle the affairs of Hanson. The petition declared that not only is Hanson blind, as a result of the bullet which pierced his temple, but that he is demented as well.

The court appointed Angelo F. Schialo, another Niagara Falls attorney, to act as special commissioner. Mr. Schialo will make a report to the court as to Hanson's condition in behalf of Mrs. Minnie Harris and Robert Hanson of Portland, Ore., brother and sister of the dry agent's victim.

Irrational Since Wounded. At Mount St. Mary's hospital to night it was said that Hanson has not been rational for a month. He has been conscious at times during the last four weeks, bedside attendants said, but his talk has only been the babbling of a man whose mind is gone. The sight of one eye, his right eye, is totally destroyed, and there is little doubt, doctors say, but that the sight of the other eye also is gone.

Shoot Innocent Man. Hanson, secretary of the Niagara Falls Elks lodge, was returning alone in his car from Lewiston in the early morning, was shot by Glenn Jennings, one of two coast guardsmen on liquor patrol duty. They wore plain clothes and when they commanded Hanson to halt, Hanson mistook them for two of the bandits who are no strangers to the Lewiston Hill district. Jennings now is facing an assault charge.

Says Socialists Plan to Enlist American Women

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Plans for extending socialism among the women of the United States were described today to the Labor Socialist International congress here, by Albert Halpern of Brooklyn. He said that a general committee had just been instituted to start active propaganda to induce American women to embrace socialist ideas and ideals.

U. S. Prepares to Rescue Latest Dry Killer from Law

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Every bit of influence the federal government can exert, in accordance with the policy which has protected scores of hale trigger dry law enforcers in the eight years of Prohibitionism, will be employed in behalf of James MacGuckin, customs agent held by Hoboken, N. J., authorities for the murder of Leo Boice, a longshoreman.

What appeared at the time to be an abandonment of the policy when MacGuckin was surrendered to Hoboken police was only a gesture, it is disclosed, to quiet the storm of local disapproval roused by Boice's death and to cloak the justice department's plan to appeal for federal court intervention if MacGuckin is indicted in a New Jersey state court for murder.

Three Other Recent Killings. Boice is one of four citizens slain by prohibition enforcement agents within the last sixty days and available records now show that a total of 172 lives, including the forty lost when the submarine S-4 was rammed and sunk by the coast guard run chaser Paulding, have been sacrificed under the prevailing ruthless enforcement methods.

So successful has the government been in shielding its dry killers that only four of the slayers have ever been convicted in the few cases which were brought to trial.

MacGuckin shot and killed Boice when the latter, engaged in unloading a liner at a Hoboken pier, attempted to smuggle two bottles of liquor ashore. MacGuckin spied the bottles and called upon Boice to halt.

Offered No Violence. Boice, prompted by a shouted warning of a bystander, smashed the bottles on the pavement and MacGuckin, without other provocation, fired. The three other killings, in widely scattered sections of the country, were the work of prohibition agents who, according to the records of the dry bureau, were quickly exonerated by local authorities and are still assigned as armed enforcers in their respective districts.

One of the cases is that of Albert Edmunds of Phenix City, Ala., who was shot and killed by Agent Grady Cobb on June 18. The prohibition authorities are preparing to defend Cobb if charges are brought against him.

Jose Villages of Santa Maria, Cal., was shot and killed by Agent Robert L. Knight on July 14. A coroner's jury absolved Knight on the ground of self-defense.

Only meager reports have been received thus far by the prohibition bureau on the killing of Edward Cottrill at Clendennin, W. Va., on July 21. Cottrill, it is indicated, resisted arrest by a party of raiders led by Agent T. L. Cox and was shot down.

Twenty prohibition agents late yesterday afternoon descended on Bellwood and Melrose Park, raiding seven places in the former and two in the latter. Ten men were arrested.

Through the courtesy of Armour & Company, Stop & Shop offers you the finest quality Roasts and Steaks ever sold in Chicago.

This is not our boast!
Science says so!
From Iowa University Department of Agriculture

Last November Iowa University selected 12 of the finest steer calves on the market for scientific raising under government supervision. Scientific feeding on measured rations of shelled corn, corn silage, linseed oil-meal, alfalfa hay, block salt, calciumlase and a mineral mixture of limestone, bone meal and potassium iodide, has produced meat of flavor and eating qualities rarely if ever produced before.

Meat experts from all over the country came to adjudge these steers (now 14 months old) and pronounced them the most perfect ever offered for public consumption.

Stop & Shop is proud to offer choicest cuts from these steers to its patrons. These Steaks and Roasts contain more than the ordinary amount of minerals and other health-giving properties. They will cook to such a tender succulent goodness that you'll eat with epicurean gusto and pass your plate for more.

Invite your friends to dinner and delight them with steaks and roasts that would make the finest hotels envious.

POLISH AIRMAN TELLS OF TRIALS ON ATLANTIC HOP

Discover Oil Leak Only by Accident.

BY KASIMIR KUBALA.
(Narrator of the Polish Airman's Story.)

(Copyright, 1928, by the United States and Canada, by the New York Times Company, by Cable to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.)

OPORTO, Portugal, Aug. 7.—Taking advantage of favorable weather reports over the Atlantic ocean which indicated a following northwest wind, we made up our minds at noon, Aug. 2, to start for America.

Following the whole length of our course over the Atlantic high pressure was reported, assuring fair weather for the entire flight. In the evening reports of the national meteorological bureau confirmed the foregoing, so we decided that there was no reason to hesitate any longer, especially since atmospheric conditions were more favorable than for months past.

These reports were borne out during the flight, as during the first half the distance during 18 hours, we found conditions which left us fuel enough for 32 more hours of flying.

Plane Carried 17,000 Pounds.

The plane had been ready for a month, but we put it in final shape for the start, tested all connections, filled all the tanks and made a final inspection of the entire ship. We had 4,300 liters of benzine, 220 liters of oil and the total weight of the plane amounted to about 17,000 pounds.

Notwithstanding this great weight, we were fully confident that our 650 horsepower Lorraine-Dietrich engine would prove equal to the task of lifting the plane at the start, as during tests the plane took off after a 400 meter run when weighing 16,300 pounds.

The plane had been flown 150 hours before our start over the Atlantic and we had full faith in its strength and durability. No important defects were discovered and no weakness, and the 52 hour non-stop endurance test convinced us of the absolute worthiness of the machine.

Took Chicken Along.

We had the greatest assistance from M. Amiot, builder of the plane, and his technical staff, and they put as much enthusiasm into the preparations as though they themselves were to be borne over the unknown water wastes on its silver wings.

We took with us in the way of food two chickens, biscuits, water and some coffee.

The plane was equipped with Morrell magnetic compasses, one earth inductor, General Electric compass, and an improved sextant of Fava-Lepetit type which proved of inestimable value during the flight.

Had Rubber Boat.

In case of a forced landing, the plane, equipped with dumping valves, could be supported for some time on the water by the empty tanks, and we also had an inflatable rubber boat.

The day before the start was divided by us between the meteorological bureau and our friends. We went to sleep about 11 p. m. in order to get up at 3 p. m., at which time we headed for the field. We found there numerous cars and a large crowd composed of government representatives, friends and well wishers, gentlemen of the press and the usual large sprinkling of curiosity seekers.

At the time of the start the sky was overcast and the weather misty. The wind blew across the runway and we could not make use of it for the takeoff. Nevertheless, the plane lifted easily after an 800 yard run, giving us a thrilling assurance of its power.

Clear Hills Near Paris.

Confident, we pointed its nose upward and soon attained a comparatively high altitude, which enabled us to clear the hills north of Paris without any difficulty.

This made us regret that we did not take more benzine, which we now knew could have been easily done.

A few minutes later familiar faces and Paris were behind us in the morning mist.

During our flight over France we had cloudy, calm weather, mist and a slight tail wind. The plane proceeded at 125 miles an hour. We were escorted at first by one plane, which was assigned to watch over the first mile of our journey through the air.

We left land at Lorient at 7:38 a. m., while numerous sailors and fishermen were waving us Godspeed on our venture.

Hit Thick Fog Bank.

The air was so calm that twenty

City to Hold Exposition of Airplanes in December

An aeronautical exposition similar to the annual auto show and featuring at least 50 types of aircraft will be held in the Coliseum Dec. 1 to 5. The announcement was made yesterday by Luther K. Bell, secretary of the Aero-Astronautical Chamber of Commerce of the United States, at a meeting of the Chicago Aero commission.

The show is timed to precede the international air conference in Washington called by President Coolidge for Dec. 12, 13, and 14. Forty representatives of foreign air ministries will be invited to the show before they attend the Washington conference. The help of the Chicago Aero commission and the Association of Commerce has been requested to entertain and honor the distinguished guests.

History of Progress.

"The Washington conference is being held to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the building of Orville Wright of the first machine-propelled, heavier-than-air plane," Mr. Bell stated at the meeting. "The most important factor in this show is its synchronization with the international conference in Washington. The Chicago show has been mentioned by Secretary of State Kellogg and it is expected that at least forty representatives of foreign air ministries will attend."

"The purpose of the show, which should further Chicago as the aeronautical center of the world, is to present a practical visualization of the stage that aviation has reached. Not only will there be a minimum of 50 planes, ranging from the individual sport type to the tri-motored commercial planes, but a number of historical planes will be brought here."

Sign Coliseum Lease.

The lease for the Coliseum was signed yesterday by Charles R. Hall, president of the Coliseum. Lack of a minutes after the start we were able to reduce the revolutions per minute by 100. Judging from the slight motion of the waves, we knew that we had a favorable wind. This condition did not last long, though.

About half an hour after leaving the shores of France we came into a fog bank so thick as to be totally impenetrable to the eye and extending to the level of 65 feet above the ocean surface. With a plane as heavily loaded as ours, we could not risk flying so low, so we had to choose the route between the fog and the clouds—unable to make any observations or get our bearings.

See Sun at Noon.

The plane was flying with amazing evenness at an altitude of 1,000 feet. At 9 a. m. (always Greenwich time, five hours earlier than New York or eastern time) I saw reduced revolutions per minute by another 100, which enabled us to make telling savings of our fuel. We never saw the sun until 11 a. m., when the fog started lifting.

Observations taken with the sextant showed that we were several miles off our course due to a brisk north wind. Our flying speed at that time was 150 miles per hour, and our position 45 north, 10.30 west.

From that point on, the weather became marvelous. We could not hope for better visibility. The waves began breaking, indicating a freshening of the wind. Observations were easily taken and we flew ahead at an altitude of 150 feet.

Water Tempers Air.

We found out by that time that piloting over the water was very easy and not at all tiresome. No matter whether the plane traveled through mist or in the clear, the air in the lower strata was of even temperature due to the close proximity of the water, and the plane proceeded like a powerful automobile on a good highway.

The void around us was compensated for by the beauty of the blue ocean and even rhythm of the motor working like a clock. At 5:30 p. m. we were already to the point 41 north 11.30 west.

At this moment, instead of continuing toward the Azores, I gave my comrade a new course due west, to the crossing of the steamship lanes. This was cutting 100 miles from our route.

The weather continued glorious, the water front airport will force the promoters of the exhibit to dismantle the planes at the Municipal airport, 630 and Cicero avenue, and haul them to the showrooms. The Coliseum has no entrance large enough to accommodate an assembled plane.

Col. Paul Henderson, who presided at the meeting as vice president of the great lakes division of the National Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, appointed a committee of members of the Chicago commission and representative citizens to work with the show management. The committee consists of Elmer Stevens, chairman; and George Foster, Earle Reynolds, George Getz, Clyde I. Backus, and Mal Reed Landis.

Members of the Chicago commission then met and considered the projected lake front airport and the Sperry air beach to be placed on top of the Morrison hotel.

Wolfe Asks Meeting.

In connection with the airport, a letter from Richard C. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, inviting the group to view plans of the airport, was read. It called for a meeting with Mr. Wolfe tomorrow noon before the plans are presented to the city council.

A Chicago corporation, the Interstate Air Lines, Inc., yesterday was awarded the contract for carrying the air mail between Chicago and Atlanta, Ga. Formed by a group of business men a month ago with the contract in view, the company received the job on its bid of 78 cents per pound. The route runs through Terre Haute and Evansville, Ind., Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., to New York to New Orleans and New York to Florida routes. Spurs to St. Louis, Mo., and Louisville, Ky., may be added later. Lawrence W. Scudder is president of the company and Charles C. Dawes, nephew of the Vice President, is one of its backers.

Six Roumanian Soldiers Killed When Fort Blows Up

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Aug. 7.—Six soldiers on guard at Fort Cateau on the outskirts of Bucharest were killed when the fort was blown up yesterday. The theory was advanced that the explosion was due to the terrific heat of 103 degrees in the shade which caused the spontaneous combustion of defective high explosives.

wind came steadily from the north-west, the plane flew at 120 miles an hour. We were at the latitude of the Azores, 41 north 21 west, at 7:30 p. m. after 18 hours of flying.

Fog Bank Gathers.

About 1 p. m. the sky became overcast and the water was covered by a fog blanket 1,000 feet thick. The wind was weaker, and, judging from the waves, came from the south. At 10:30 p. m., we were at 41.30 north 10:30, flying at 125 miles an hour. We were forced to fly through the fog close to the water to avoid stronger winds.

In order to measure our deflection from the course, I went to the bottom of the plane where the drift indicator was built in. There I noticed a considerable flow of oil under the ship, which was not there before.

Greatly alarmed, I halted Idzikowski, who soon reported a falling of oil pressure. His first words were: "What shall we do? Where shall we fly?"

Face Failure in Air.

It was truly difficult to reach a decision. It could not enter my mind, that now, when half way across, we were to interrupt the flight which had thirty flying hours of fuel left to complete it.

We had to do it though, in order to follow the safest route and be guided by cool thought rather than ambition. My decision to return was influenced by the following circumstances:

The weather conditions, the direction of the wind, the distance to the nearest land, and the possibility of help.

Continuation of our course towards the western hemisphere was the most dangerous because land was 4,000 miles away, the wind southwest, there were no ships ahead of us, and probably heavy fog lanes. In addition there were no ship lanes on that course.

The nearest point was the Azores, 100 miles away, the wind southwest, there were all over the sky, and astronomical observations were impossible.

LAND GIFT TO U. S., INDIAN'S PEACE SYMBOL

Chief Plenty Coos Presents Strip for Park.

Billings, Mont., Aug. 7.—(AP)—At the foot of the picturesque Pryor mountains, in the Crow Indian country, Chief Plenty Coos, head of the Crow nation and pastor of American Indian churches, today formally presented to the people of the United States a tract of land to be used as a park by future generations of both whites and reds. It has been the aged chieftain's name more than half a century.

Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord, retired, under special commission from the interior department, accepted the gift for the government and valued to the people the thanks of the American people.

The ceremony was impressive. Amid colorful settings, Chief Plenty Coos' braves, in their tribal regalia, mingled with Gen. Harbord's escort of army reserve officers.

Adopted Into Tribe.
Because of his admiration for Gen. Harbord as a soldier, the chief adopted the general into the Crow tribe, conferring on him the Indian name Mountain Eagle. He gave Gen. Harbord an elaborate war bonnet and the two warriors smoked the pipe of peace while the young braves of the tribe danced around them.

Presentation of the park, a forty-acre tract, 40 miles south of Billings, as a memorial to himself, but as a symbol of the peace that has existed between his people and the whites since advent of the latter into the Crow country, has been in the mind of Chief Plenty Coos several years.

Hints at Conversion.
The Indian told of the purposes of the gift and also threw a hint of his conversion to Christianity in a reference to the bestowal of favors by the Great Spirit on reds and whites.

"Old men of the tribe," said the chief, "long have pondered on why the Great Spirit seems to love his white children most. We have come now to believe it is because we were late in finding the true God."
Gen. Harbord replied: "It is impossible that all the changes in the past 40 years have come to you without some regrets for your old life. Yet every race of men, some time, has had to exchange a life such as yours of more than 50 years ago for the more monotonous, more regulated and many times less interesting ways of civilization."

ADAMLESS EDEN CAMP OPENS FOR FARMERS' WIVES

An "Adamless Eden," where husbands and children will be unwelcome for the next four days, was opened yesterday at Camp Rotary, six miles south of Breator, Ill., by the wives of La Salle county farmers.

And further than refusing to see their husbands and children, these wives will refuse to do a "lick" of work until the camp breaks up Saturday morning and they return to their pots and pans. A group of women have been engaged to do every bit of work from cooking and dish washing to the bed making.

Outside the camp hangs a sign that reads: "Positively no men or children allowed to enter this camp." In case of an emergency, the gates will be opened, but "emergency" in this case is specifically described not to include such catastrophes as a deserted husband's inability to solve the enigma of a pair of rompers that "mother always puts on the boy."

The camp idea was conceived by the La Salle county farm bureau, and education yesterday were that the experiment is a complete success. The women will have nothing to do but play games and be entertained.

COOLIDGE VETO PEN TO BE KEPT UNTIL THE FINISH

Will Try to Hold Next Congress to Budget.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—True to his policy of economy and his stand against extravagance in government, President Coolidge will veto any expenditures by the next session of congress that do not come within the income of the nation. His attitude became known at the executive offices today following an all day conference yesterday with Brig. Gen. H. M. Lord, director of the budget.

The President is not alarmed by the nation's financial outlook, either for the current fiscal year or for the fiscal year 1930, but he insists that any surplus shall not be endangered by unwise spending by the government departments or by congress. The fact that congress has overridden his veto will deter him from again exercising his discretion.

Deficit Is Only "Paper."
Even though Gen. Lord informed him of an impending $100,000,000 deficit, the executive realizes, like the budget director, that this is merely a "paper" deficit, which almost certainly will be absorbed. Therefore it gives him no special concern and he believes that the government will be on the right side of the ledger at the close of the current fiscal year.

Although Gen. Lord anticipates that the tax reduction made by the last congress will stimulate revenues, Mr. Coolidge does not think there will be any material increase, unless there is an indirect stimulus to business. He feels that the capital stock transfer tax will bring a good return, and many persons who held on to their property while awaiting the result of the last tax reduction bill have now turned it over.

Gets Reports of Prosperity.
Any large increase in revenue would come, the President thinks, chiefly through general prosperity of industry, commerce and agriculture. He indicated to callers today that reports he had received indicated such prosperity.

CALLS CHICAGO
NEXT CAPITAL
OF WORLD TRADECol. McCormick Talks to Interstate Merchants.

Chicago was visualized as the center of the world capital by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Tribune, in an address yesterday at the fourteenth semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants' council at the Hotel Sherman. More than 400 visiting merchants attended the luncheon.

After pointing out in succession the reasons that have led to the growth of Chicago since history began, Col. McCormick set forth the natural advantages that are contributing to the expansion of Chicago as a world market.

"Chicago is the center of the most important fact in world history was the migration of Europeans to this continent," he asserted. "The war, followed by various acts of congress, stopped immigration and at the same time this country became the great center of capital. And the picture changes again. No longer is the natural center a city looking toward Europe, but we have a self-contained continent revolving about its axis, which is Chicago."

"This city is the center of the most productive industrial and agricultural world has ever seen. We are in the center, or near the center, of most of the mining of the country and manufacturing, and some near Chicago is the center of population."

All of the advantages offered merchants elsewhere and some that cannot be found in any other market are being brought to the attention of the interstate merchants' council in Chicago, declared W. E. Schnitzler, president of the council. He said the city is in fact the great central market for American merchants.

Quality Good, Prices Fair.
The quality of goods manufactured and sold here is of the best, Mr. Schnitzler asserted, while prices are competitive and reasonable. Members of the domestic and foreign trade committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce welcomed the council members who are in the city to study some building plans and ideas.

Paul Kanning of the trade department is in active charge of the convention, which will end tomorrow.

ALLEGIANCE OATH
SOFTENED FOR
WAR'S OPPONENTS

The state department has drafted a modified oath of allegiance for the benefit of non-residents who want to profit from the protection of their country without swearing to defend themselves in war, according to the Army and Navy Register.

A story in the last issue of the service publication states that a communication signed by J. K. Huddle, chief of the passport division, gives an answer in such a dilemma the following information:

"If you have conscientious scruples against taking the oath as it stands, the department will consider the issue of a passport to you if you will make the formal application in the following form:

"Further, I do solemnly affirm that I will support the Constitution of the United States and will, so far as my conscience will allow, defend it against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same and that I take this obligation freely without mental reservation."

HERBERT G. THOMPSON,
Major, City of Madison.

INDIANA'S ENQUIRY.

It is a governor was indicted for alleged to have been common than a year before his for governor. This indictment secured after a fine-tooth official record as governor real any excuse for indifference of the fact that Indiana few states that are out of scandal is connected with institutions we are prompted old to ask: Jonathan, what city?

INDIANA HEADS INTO DOUBTFUL POLITICAL ARENA

Democrats Quite Likely to Elect Governor.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Indiana appears headed into the doubtful column in the contest between Herbert Hoover and Al Smith. The state is a swing state, and the outcome of the election will depend on the result of the vote in the state.

Indiana politicians here are telling a different story. In most of the counties today the burden of the analysis is that Indiana this year is real ground.

See Democratic Governor. The Democrats, it appears, are quite likely to elect a governor, while the Republicans are likely to elect a senator.

Vote Points to Reaction. The 1928 vote rolled up by Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliam and John J. Carter against Senator Arthur Robinson in the May primaries is a reaction against the spirit that made the period of klan misrule and corruption possible and fattened the professional dyes is said by some political students to be spreading through the state.

Reaction against the spirit that made the period of klan misrule and corruption possible and fattened the professional dyes is said by some political students to be spreading through the state.

Hoover, from all indications, is being weakened by the state ticket. The forces, too, which are arranging to conduct the campaign in Indiana are a drag. Some of the names which have been given wide publicity in Indiana's harvest of scandal are trying to bracket themselves with Hoover. The Democrats are not overlooking this.

When the national campaign gets under way, the Democrats are not overlooking this.

under way after the speeches of acceptance, the state will see a general election by the Democrats of Indiana's story of shame as told by Republicans in the spring primaries in fighting for a housecleaning in the party and the state.

Some who figured in the indictments and the era of the invisible government are crashing back in seeking to get behind Hoover.

In the governorship fight the klan can anyone tell? NO!

KAFFEE Hag is coffee that's 97% free of caffeine. It will not keep you awake—but you never notice any difference at meal-time.

All the quick, bracing effects of coffee are there. They come from heat and aromatic coffee oils anyhow. Caffeine doesn't begin to affect you until hours after drinking. Then it may prevent sleep.

Try this delicious coffee that lets you sleep. Kaffee Hag is a blend of the finest coffees. Full pound—16 oz.—in every can. Ground or in bean. At grocers.

had a hand. Harry G. Leslie, who was speaker of the house during the klan domination a few years back, was nominated by the state convention, although he is fifth in the primaries.

A hand wagon had started for Frederick Landis, who had been vigorously denouncing the klan and its iniquities. It looked as if he would be nominated on the next ballot when there was a diversion. Joseph Huffington and Walter Bossert, klan officers, swarmed around and put Leslie over. After the Kansas City convention, Postmaster General New called Leslie to Washington to introduce him to Hoover.

The Democratic nominee is Frank C. Daley, the man who prosecuted the Senator Newberry case in Michigan and who cleaned up frauds in Terre Haute and Indianapolis. Many Republican observers say the prospects are dim for Leslie.

William H. Settle, its president, says Al Smith's recent pronouncement on the farm plank is quite all right and in conformity with the Houston platform.

"They say I'm a Democrat," said Mr. Settle today, "but I come from a real Republican family and always have been a Republican, except that I didn't vote for Coolidge on account of his position on agriculture.

"If the Democrats lose Indiana, it's their own fault. They've got the state now. The Democratic platform and Al Smith's statement are satisfactory to organized agriculture, while the Republican farm plank is not."

"Leaders who say Smith's statement repudiated what we have been seeking merely are ignorant of the principles, that's all."

"In business Henry Ford, in carrying his overhead, puts it in on all the machines he makes, not only on a little bunch."

"That's all there's to it—let the goods benefit stand the expense of surplus control—just like assessing all property owners on a street for a new paving."

Shah's Men Seize Afghan Plane After Fall in Persia

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) TEHRAN, Persia, Aug. 7.—One of the airplanes composing the aerial fleet of Amir Amanullah of Afghanistan, en route from Berlin to Kabul, Afghanistan, crashed near Khat, Persia. The plane was badly damaged, but the pilot was not injured. It was seized by the Persian government for passing over Persian territory without a permit.

RESEARCH SHOWN AS GAME PLAYED FOR HIGH STAKES

One form of gambling in which skill plays a leading part is scientific research. Dr. L. V. Radman, director of research for the Bakelite company, asserted at the meeting of the American Institute of Chemists at Northwestern University. Stakes are for big money and big discoveries, he declared, and the gamble is with time and ingenuity. One investment of $300,000 brought in a dividend of 3,300 per cent, but it took almost ten years for the yield to come, he said.

Science has discovered how to produce rain, but the experiment is still in the laboratory stage and it is doubtful whether it will ever be perfected to the point where it can be applied in an arid country, Prof. T. C. Knipp of the University of Illinois announced. He demonstrated the method by taking a vessel of air saturated with moisture, and introduced dust particles into the air, causing it to condense and fall like rain.

"If the air over the city of Chicago were right at the saturation point," he said, "and we wanted rain, all we would have to do would be to blow some of this city's smoke into the air and we would have rain."

Stayesant Peabody Made Aid to Kentucky Governor

(Picture on back page.) Stayesant Peabody, president of the Peabody Coal company and of the Consumers company, was made a Kentucky colonel on his fortieth birthday yesterday. A commission received from Gov. Flem D. Sampson of Kentucky made him a aide-de-camp to the governor with the rank of colonel. Mr. Peabody, who is chairman of the committee conducting the Chicago world fair's enrollment campaign, is the owner of a string of race horses and affiliated with a number of racing associations.

Hold Waiter for Theft of $90,000 Jewels in Hotel

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—The theft of jewels valued at more than $90,000 from the Beach Front hotel suite of Henry C. Heintz of Atlanta, Ga., was revealed today by the arrest of William Sears, a Negro, 33, as a suspect. Heintz is an official of the Coca Cola company, and the immediate past president of Kiwanis International. Heintz left early Sunday to play golf. Mrs. Heintz ordered breakfast served in their suite. The jewels were on top of a dresser when Sears arrived.

NEW COMMISSION PLANS SERIES OF SEWER HEARINGS

With the announced intention of "divorcing Chicago's sewer problems from politics," the new sewer commission, headed by Ald. Leonard J. Grossman (5th) will start a series of hearings at the city hall tomorrow. It was announced yesterday.

"We are going to delve into every aspect of the sewer situation, especially the relations of the city and the sanitary district," said Ald. Grossman. "We hope, after an inquiry extending even into pay rolls, to actually get some new sewers built."

The commission's first consideration will be the plans for a system of large trunk sewers, recently recommended by the sanitary district, for the south side north of 57th street. As the city must construct intercepting sewers, it is necessary for the plans to be adopted by the city council.

Members of the commission are Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe, Corporation Counsel Etzelson, Health Commissioner Kegel, President Fahey of the board of local improvements, and six aldermen.

In Summer more than ever women want Freedom from kitchen Drudgery

DAINTY hands are finding more time for books, golf clubs, tennis rackets and motor wheels where there is a Conover Electric Dishwasher in the home.

In no season of the year is hand dishwashing a very enjoyable job. But in summer it is especially disagreeable to have to put one's hands into hot, soapy, smelly dishwater three times a day—seven days a week.

CONOVER Electric DISHWASHER

Makes Vacation Days Much Happier Many women are washing dishes only once or twice a day since they have had the Conovers. Dirty dishes can be stacked in the Conover out of sight and out of the way whenever there's lack of time or inclination to do them. And then when convenient, turn on the hot-water faucet, press a button, follow the few simple directions, and in a very few minutes your dishes come out clean, sparkling, dry. Not once need you put your hands in the water.

Washes Pots and Pans, too!

Without extra charge, a Pots-and-Pans Rack is now being furnished with every new Conover. It permits washing the greatest pots and pans without having to put your hands in the water.

Free Home Trial You may arrange with any of the below-listed dealers for a 31-meal trial, in your own home, of either of the two Conover models. Model AA is for small and average families; model TR for large families, boarding houses, tea rooms, etc. Or write us for descriptive folder.

Bates and Henry P. Reger, through Sayers & Rainey. The term is ten years and the total rental is reported to be $150,000. The building will be remodeled. FIGHT WIDOW'S HANDLING OF TAYLOR ESTATE Daughters Oppose Stepmother.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Objection to appointment of their stepmother, Mrs. Nora A. Taylor, as administrator of the estate of her husband, William S. Taylor, who died here last week, was made today in a suit filed in probate court by four daughters of Taylor, who will share in the estate.

Taylor, former governor of Kentucky, died here in 1900 following the fatal shooting of his political opponent, William Goebel.

The daughters, Tyler F. Davidson, Letha Bailey, Anna B. Wilson and Mable Miller assert in their complaint that Mrs. Taylor is incompetent to serve as administrator because of improvidence and lack of harmony between her and the other heirs.

In addition, the plaintiffs allege that at the time of her marriage to Taylor in 1912, she entered into a signed agreement relinquishing all claims to his property. Taylor agreed to relinquish all claim to any of her property.

Disputes Between Heirs.
The daughters ask that Dan V. White, municipal judge, be appointed administrator. They declare Mrs. Taylor is incompetent to serve "because of disputes that have arisen between her and other heirs and there is no harmony existing between them as a result of which court action may be necessary in order to settle disputes."

Taylor has a twelve year old son by his second wife. The first Mrs. Taylor died following their exodus here having spent one fortune in litigation over the office of governor in Kentucky. Taylor gained a new one here. No will has yet been probated.

La Grange Prep Student Easily Defeat Italian Crew

Little Dick Mullin, La Grange High school sophomore, who missed playing in the national open by one shot, made sure he'd play in the Western Junior championship which began with an 18 hole qualifying round yesterday. Mullin didn't take any chances on missing out by a shot in this qualifying round and went out in 35 and came home, eased up, in 38 to lead the field with a score of 73.

The field, by the way, consisted of 170 starters ranging in age from 15 to 19 inclusive, of whom 140 turned in cards. Sixty per cent of them scored in the 80's or better, and only three of the 140 went over the 100 mark, unusual in that usually half a dozen entrants in any tournament get buck fever and toss away golf for the whole season.

Lyons Starts Badly.
Lyons started badly, being short with his second and over the green with his third but got back for a putt and one over par, but lost another shot on second, being short with his second shot and barely got his par, though he was home in two, on the par 5 eighth. His first birdie came on the baby hole, the 129 yard eleventh, a two, but took six on the 63 yard thirteenth. His third took to the woods at the left of the green. He finished in par.

Match play begins at 9 o'clock this morning, when Mullin and Carmen La Rocca start off, while the second round will be played this afternoon. Two more rounds tomorrow will cut the field to the two finalists who will battle for the championship Friday. The pairings for the first match and the players' qualifying scores follow:

Stewart Shoots a 76.
Another stroke behind was Bob Stewart of Lincoln Park, and Jack Lenfesty Jr. of Evanston, winner of the Midwest championship at Lincoln Park, and Bob Crowe Jr. of Bunker Hill tied at 76. Kenneth Kling of Elkhardt, Ind., had 77, as did Albert Hakes of Fredonia, N. Y., defending champion.

Phils Defeat Cubs, 4 to 2, for 3 in Row

More. A pass to Hartnett started the inning. Gabby and Beck tied to put on the hit and run play but Beck didn't connect and Hartnett was thrown out at second. Beck then reached first on Whitely's lead throw and took third on Carlson's single to right. English hit to center and Beck scored. Maguire holsted to Sand in deep short and Cuyler propelled a fly ball into the center fielder's glove. Wilson led off with a single in the fifth. Stephenson walked and the bases became clogged with none out when the pitcher dropped the ball as he was about to throw to first on Quinn's bunt. Hartnett then bounced to Sand and Wilson was forced at the plate. Beck bounced to Hurst and Stephenson was forced at the plate. Carlson stepped gently to Willoughby and the inning ended without profit.

During the first four innings, Carlson gave up only three hits but the Phils burst forth and registered three runs in the fifth. Whitely singled. Sand hit out, and with Davis at bat, Carlson threw one that suited and the giant backstop knocked it into the left field seats. The Phils, led by Carlson, walked, and loutably fanned Southern walked, and Thompson singled to center. Southern went to third on the hit but Thompson was trapped between bases on the fly ball into the center fielder's glove. When the pitcher dropped the ball as he was about to throw to first on Quinn's bunt. Hartnett then bounced to Sand and Wilson was forced at the plate. Beck bounced to Hurst and Stephenson was forced at the plate. Carlson stepped gently to Willoughby and the inning ended without profit.

Malone Stops Phils.
Carlson's removal in the sixth, when the Phils counted once, was brought about by two hits. Leach doubled to right center field score board with one out. Whitely walked. Sand singled a single over short. Leach scored. Then Malone stepped in and disposed of the next two batters.
After the fifth the Cubs made only one hit in three innings. Then in the ninth with one out Heathcote batted for Maguire and walked. Cuyler was thrown out by Whitely. Wilson singled to center, scoring Heathcote. Stephenson walked, so Willoughby was yanked and Ring mounted the knob to get Grimm on a fly that ended the struggle.

Semi-finals in two other classes tomorrow will pit the American pair without coxswain against Germany and Italy against Britain, and the American four without coxswain against Italy while Britain here, too, draws a bye.

Wright Is Eliminated.
A fifth American crew, the double sculling combination, also is still in the running, as only two out of seven United States entries have been eliminated.
One of the surprises of today's program was the elimination of Joe Wright, Canada's single-sculling standard bearer, by Collett of England, who beat him by two lengths in 7:52.

KEN MYERS WINS

SLOTEN, Holland, Aug. 7.—(AP)—In addition to California's eight oared crew victory, Ken Myers, Philadelphia single sculler, won today for Uncle Sam, defeating Candevau of Switzerland, and entered the semi-final.
Myers had an easy task in his race against Candevau which we won by two lengths. The Swiss made a strong bid at the 1,500 meter mark, the three-quarter point in the race, but by that time Myers had a five length lead. Seeing the Swiss pick up the beat, the American gave a few quick pulls himself to make sure his lead was a safe one, then settled down to a slower stroke. His time was 8 minutes 53.5 seconds.

HAYDN TIGHTENS TITLE GRIP ON U.S. ROQUE CROWN

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 7.—(Special)—H. C. Haydn of Cleveland, O., tightened his grip on the first division honors in the national tournament of the American roque league at Winona Lake today as more of his rivals for the title fell by the wayside.
Haydn to date has not been defeated and has only two more games to play, one with Grant Dazey of Indianapolis, also undefeated, and the other with O. E. Barnhart of Chicago, defending champion who dropped far behind as the result of three successive defeats.

Tomorrow Myers meets the Dutch.

U. S. STARS WIN COLOGNE MEET IN EASY FASHION

Take Nine Firsts; Three Records Broken.

COLOGNE, Germany, Aug. 7.—(AP)—A strong United States track and field team, many of its members performing more sensationally than in the Olympics, swept the international meet here today, winning nine out of fifteen events.

Three German records were surpassed—in the 400 meter hurdles, high jump, and javelin—and world records were menaced in at least half the events. Sweden and Hungary each won two events and France and Germany each one. The lone Teuton triumph came when Emil Hirschfeld beat John Kuck at shot putting.

An enthusiastic crowd of more than 25,000 sat on the stepped slopes of the picturesque sunken oval and stayed until dark as the officials used matches to read the tape used in measuring the javelin throws.

Charles Borah of the United States showed a sensational return to form in winning the 100 meter dash in 10.7-10 seconds. Borah won by a yard from an 18 year old German, Jonath, with Henry Russell of the United States third. Lloyd Hahn, also of the American team, won the 300 meters run in one minute 52.5 seconds, beating the German, Roeder.

Two American victories were won in the field events when Charles McGinnis captured the pole vault with 13 feet 4 inches, with Barney Berlinger third, and Bud Houser won the discus throw with a toss of 42.25 meters, Eric Krenz placing second.

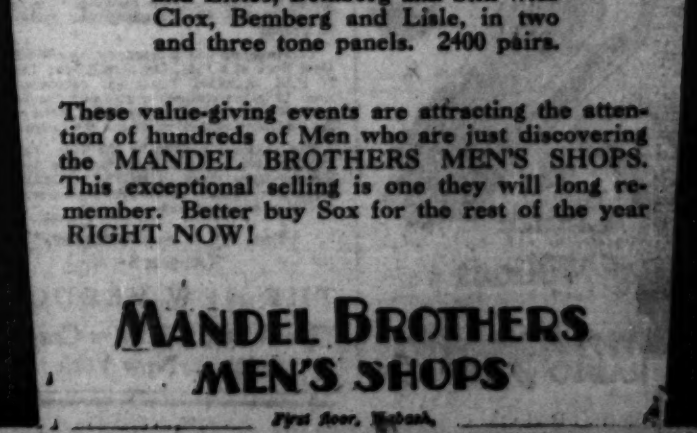

In the 110 meter hurdles Leighton Dye beat Hugo Letatner by inches in 15.14 seconds after a spectacular duel between the two Californians.

Rob King of the United States won the high jump with 6 feet 5 1/4 inches, McGinnis was second and Jim Stewart third. Ed Hamm, United States, new Olympic broad jump champion, was an easy winner of his specialty.

150 MINUTE MAT STRUGGLE WON BY GUS KALLIO

Gus Kallio of Louisville won a decisive victory over Karp Pajoleto of Wisconsin in the windup of the wrestling show at the Hippodrome last night. At the end of two hours of grappling, the judges and Referee Emil Thier called it a draw. After a five minute intermission, the grapplers wrestled for another hour and the decision went to Kallio on aggressiveness. Fisher weighed 154 1/2 pounds and Kallio 158.

In the semi-windup, Karp Pajoleto took a one fall match from Henry Stook of Oshkosh, Wis., in 19:10 with a bar arm and half nelson. Fred Von Mier won the opening match from George Mack in 8:40 with a body scissors and a wrist lock and Jim Mueller allowed only five hits. O'Grady and Williams hit homers.

WHEEL

COULDN'T STAND NEIGHBOR'S PITY, KILLS HUSBAND

Slew to Halt Gossip of His Other Loves, She Says.

BY TOM PETTEY.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
New York, Aug. 7.—(Special.)—A suburban wife who couldn't meet the snarls and half pitying smiles of neighborhood gossip confessed today that she had slain her husband with a bread knife because of the "things those women said." But first, she tried twice to kill herself. Each time her husband disarmed her. Tonight she was held without bail on a charge of murder.

Tongues wagged when bobbed and blonde haired Frances Kirkwood came back to her Sunnyside Gardens, Long Island, home from a vacation at Lake Ronkonkoma, and last night loud and bitter quarreling was heard between young Dr. Glen Kirkwood and his wife. Housewives who leaned from open windows to listen, called the police this morning when a man's scream was followed by silence.

Stabs Him Eight Times.

A patrolman met the wife, eight years older than her 25 year old husband, as she ran screaming from the house. He caught her by her wrist and led her back into the bedroom, where he found Dr. Kirkwood in a jama and dressing gown, lying on the floor dying of eight stab wounds in the abdomen and chest. The young veterinarian surgeon and radio lecturer died an hour later.

Mrs. Kirkwood was taken to Queens courthouse, where she was questioned by District Attorney Richard Newcombe. Before going to the prosecutor's office she asked permission to "dress up a bit." Unhappily she did herself in a pink linen dress with green stripes, silver choker, stockings, sport shoes and white hat. Then she slipped on two diamond rings and wound a string of imitation pearls around her throat.

Her Second Husband.

Dry eyed, with a cigarette in her mouth and a lipstick in her fingers, she sat in the prosecutor's office. She smoked steadily as the prosecutor and his detectives questioned her.

"Yes, I killed him," she told them. "When I came home from my vacation I heard gossip everywhere—in the stores, on the streets, and even on my own doorstep. He was my second husband, and the women told me he had been seen almost every night in the company of Long Island City girls. We quarreled all night."

Mr. Newcombe said Mrs. Kirkwood had made a complete signed confession.

"There was apparently jealousy on both sides. It is true that it was generally reported in the neighborhood that there was cause for jealousy on the wife's part."

New Material for Gossips.

Back in the neighborhood, the gossip spoke scornfully of the woman who lived in the house down the street. "Such people," said one housewife, "ain't it terrible! He was her second husband, you know. Her first husband was named McAvoy, and she got a boy by him—but she sent the little fellow away yesterday."

Other women in the neighborhood confessed they didn't like Frances Kirkwood, because she smoked cigarettes in the street and "put on airs."

But Dr. Kirkwood, they said: "He's a fine fellow; had a good practice, and delivered a radio lecture once a week."

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A motion for a continuance of his second trial for the murder of his mother was filed today in behalf of Harry Hill, Streator, Ill., youth. Elmer Wonders What Hearers Ask of Radios

And Which Programs Win
Most Dial Time.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Radio probably will always strive for popular favor. As one nightly turns the dials across the large number of low wave length stations made up of jazz or orchestra music and songs and jokes he is led to wonder what the public wants, and how much of that, whatever it is.

These reflections were due to the New York 8 to 9 program through W-G-N, a two part program, one semi-classical, the other popular. The first half was strictly orchestral music of the subdued type that would please any music loving ear. The second half was devoted entirely to the song and orchestra hits of Walter Donaldson. The orchestral arrangements of the latter part defy description. The songs offer the same difficulty. Yet both these orchestra selections and the songs are played with such skill and so danced to by almost the entire American family, and that's that!

W-G-N's 9 to 10 orchestral and vocal concert attained a high order of merit.

Mrs. Belle Forbes Cutter, soprano, was even better than usual. The vocal double quartet did excellent work, and the W-G-N concert orchestra's contributions were a joy for quality and for tone.

The Stadium concert, New York, through KYW, was cut short on account of rain, though not before the "Eroica" symphony of Beethoven and the scherzo from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" had been played. Now, where does a work like the "Eroica" symphony stand in popular approval? That's what any one in my position would like to know. That I can sit spellbound while listening to it is of no value; what does the general listener do when he encounters a work like that?

And here about a work like Bach's Fifth Brandenburg piano concerto, played during the Works of Great Composers program through KYW, 9:30 to 10:15, with Winifred Young Corcoran as guest pianist? Absolutely unfamiliar as this work was, I am all ears, but sure that most listeners who stick with a broadcast of this type enjoy it immensely. To enjoy it intelligently is a short step.
